Suit over School Financing Not Expected to Disrupt Borough-Township Ties

In mid-August, just as Consolidation Study Committee members sit down to examine the first draft report on work they've been doing over the past year, Princeton Township will go before Superior Court, challenging the constitutionality of the law that got Borough taxpayers off the griddle when the school financing law was passed.

"I don't think the court action will have an effect on consolidation," said a Study Committee member, who asked not to be named.

"It is entirely proper for each governing body to aggressively seek to protect its taxpayers," said Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week, commenting on the unanimous, bi-partisan action of Township Committee.

"It's just a case of the rich old pirates in the Township trying to take from the low-to-middle-income, middle Americans in the Borough," declared Borough Council president Martin P. Lombardo.

Township Committee's three present members -- two were on vacation -- voted unanimously last week to test the phase-in law that gives the Borough five years to ease into the change from sharing school costs on a per-pupil basis, to sharing them on the rateables basis.

Township Mayor Jay Bleiman calculates a $1 million loss for Township taxpayers over the five year period: $400,000 this year, $300,000 next, and so on, until the switch has been completed.

"I welcome Mayor Cawley's comment as the voice of reason," Mayor Bleiman said Tuesday. "This is not vindictiveness against the Borough because they didn't go along with us on developing the north side of Community Park, or anything like that. One million is a LOT of money. As every Township taxpayer knows by now, it meant a 14 cent tax increase; a lot more than we expected."

The mayor spoke ruefully of Mr. Lombardo's remark.

"I wouldn't call those Township residents who live on Leigh Avenue, Linden Lane, Birch Avenue, Clearview or Mt. Lucas exactly 'rich old pirates.' And I must say that in the Borough, I haven't noticed many low and middle - income 'Middle Americans' on Hodge, Elm, Library, Westcott or Cleveland."

"It is the very kind of intemperate statement that makes for divisiveness and can only be lamented."

Mayor Cawley, without naming Mr. Lombardo, said at his press conference Tuesday, "I don't think it's appropriate to claim the Township is rapacious -- they're doing something logical -- any more than I hope the Township wasn't mad at us when we sought legislative relief."

County Committee Picks Trotman to Fill Council Seat Held by late Murray Medvin

Marvin Trotman was chosen Tuesday night by Democratic county committee members in the Borough to fill the Council seat held by the late Murray Medvin.

Actual appointment to the vacancy is up to Council itself, but all five members of Council support Mr. Trotman, so his appointment is assured. The county committee vote was crucial, however, since committee has the authority to say what name goes on the ballot in the November elections.

Mr. Trotman received nine votes to seven for Mrs. Leona Medvin, Mr. Medvin's widow. There was one abstention in the secret balloting.

After Mr. Trotman is appointed, he will take his seat immediately, serving until the November elections. He will run for the one year remaining in Mr. Medvin's term and his opponent on the Republican side will be Ken Randall III, 218 Prospect, 22 year-old student.

In a surprise maneuver last Wednesday, Republicans informed the Democrats that if Mrs. Medvin were appointed, Republicans would not field a candidate against her.

"Such an action on the part of an opposing political party has often occurred in the past," the Republicans said in a prepared statement, and it is felt that it will bring harmony and purpose to the Princeton Borough political scene."

Republicans sprang their surprise by asking a reporter from WHWH to telephone the Unitarian Church where the Princeton Community Democratic Organization was meeting to discuss a Medvin replacement. The Republicans' offer to back Mrs. Medvin was relayed to the group by the WHWH reporter.

That night, the PCDO's membership found itself unable to rally the necessary two-thirds vote to back anybody at all, although Mrs. Medvin received 26 votes. Mr. Trotman took 16 and Michael Rockland, two. Bryan Moore, regarded by some Democrats as a more satisfactory black for Council service than Mr. Trotman, received no votes and withdrew his candidacy.

Fred Bohen, PCDO president, referred to the Republicans' move as "an enormously complicating factor in an already complicated situation" and warned Democrats not to be "railroaded."

It is possible that this isn't the first time Republicans have quietly moved into a Democratic situation. Many Democrats now believe Republicans or independents with Republican leanings, voted for David Male in the June Democratic primary, believing him an easier candidate to beat in November than Mr. Trotman.

Mr. Male, who won over Mr. Trotman in the primary by a handful of votes, received a surprisingly large number of votes in traditionally Republican western section districts. Democrats say they know of one former office-holder in the Republican party who tried to vote on the Democratic side and was unable to do so because of this year's new primary laws.

This Is PRINCETON

In the present case, Republican strategy not only failed, but probably backfired, rallying undecided Democrats to Mr. Trotman's side.

Mrs. Jackie Swain, Democratic committeewoman in the Borough's District Six, where most of the community's black residents live, circulated a petition urging support for Mr. Trotman.

The petition declared that Democrats don't want a situation in which "the Republican party can manipulate us by threatening to put up opposition should our candidate be the one they do not wish to fill the seat."

Mrs. Swain obtained 205 signatures for the petition, which was presented to Tuesday night's meeting by Joseph P. Moore, retiring Borough Council member and committeeman for District Six.

Democrats supporting Mr. Trotman have urged his appointment as a replacement for Mr. Moore, who goes off Council at the end of the year. The appointment would assure Council of a black member.

Mrs. Swain said of her petition, "We worded it so that no one's feelings would be hurt, and so that it would not sound threatening."

Democrats have spoken privately of the delicate situation involved in Mrs. Medvin's candidacy. Mr. Medvin had become a minority of one on the all-Democratic Council, presenting Council with the difficult problem of wanting Mr. Trotman as a colleague to cement a six-member unity, yet not wanting to offend the widow of the Council member who had been in the minority position.

Mini Bike Law Up for Public Hearing

The Township's so-called "Mini-bike" ordinance -- but it includes motorcycles, go-carts and mopeds -- will be up for public hearing next Monday at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

Here are the rules, as outlined in the ordinance:

- You can't ride any of these four motor vehicles on private property. If you do, the Township police can impound your bike in a local garage and you pay the towing charge to get it back.
- Your parents could get a summons, also. You can't be given a summons if you're under 18.
- If you make a deal with a private property-owner, you can ride on that property, but the permission must be in writing and you must keep the permission note on you all the time. "....but the owner said it was OK and I left the note at home" won't do.
- You can't ride on public Township property, either. This means open space lands, parks and so on. Your bike can be impounded in the same way. And the Township won't give you permission, the way a private owner might.
- On the roadways, New Jersey's motor-vehicle laws apply. The state doesn't allow any unregistered vehicle to travel the roads. Mopeds are usually unregistered; therefore, you can't ride a moped on a "primary" road. Of course, the state has never defined "primary" road.
- If you're over 17 and you get your moped licensed and then you can ride it on roads, but you would need a helmet and a regular driver's license.
- If you ride your unlicensed moped on the road, Township police can impound it and your parents could get a summons. If you're just taking your bike -- moped, mini or whatever -- to a friend's house to work on it, that's OK.
- You can't ride in such a way as to produce "loud, unnecessary or unusual noise," so pay attention to your muffler.
- The ordinance doesn't apply to lawn-mowers or other vehicles "engaged in agricultural or horticultural work," or construction vehicles.

The only thing not covered by the ordinance, in fact, is an automobile.

Originally, the ordinance was a broad one covering "motor vehicles" generally. But definitions have been sharpened and cars are now specifically excluded. Some Township police are unhappy about this narrowing because the broader definition would have included snowmobiles.

".....and it's going to happen," police say darkly, "just wait'll the first deep snow....."

Borough-Township

naming Mr. Lombardo, said at his press conference Tuesday, "I don't think it's appropriate to claim the Township is rapacious — they're doing something logical — any more than I hope the Township wasn't mad at us when we sought legislative relief."

Both mayors said they felt the mutual relationship across the line would, in Mayor Cawley's words, "continue as cordial as before," and he pointed to the bi - partisan nature of both the Township's action and the earlier action by the Borough last year. It was the Borough's success in its own effort to get the law changed that resulted in the Township's counter action, seeking its own relief.

Even Mr. Lombardo conceded that "very healthy relationships have been going on in our joint activities," but he said he thought the Township's action "will open up old wounds from the school merger fight" and he warned that the action would be "unhealthy" for future joint ventures.

The true villain seems to be neither Borough nor Township, but state. Mayor Cawley said he regards the original legislative approach as the basic problem.

"The question of what would happen in regional districts just wasn't addressed in any depth," he said, "a formula treating regional school districts like any other town, would have avoided all this."

The Borough, with other towns that were flattened by the original law, hired attorney Robert Wilentz to see what could be done. Mayor Cawley says Mr. Wilentz, at his clients' request, has been looking for different approaches that might solve the problem in ways more satisfying to everybody.

"We believe sharing by rateables is the constitutional way," Mayor Bleiman explains, "Our complaint will argue that, under the formula basing school aid on rateables per pupil, the Borough is richer than we are, and yet the state is attempting to equalize."

Mayor Cawley said he believes the Borough will come out on top in the court action. It is possible, he said, that the Borough may hire a lawyer and go into the case as "friend of the court."

Incidentally, the Township is NOT suing the Borough. The only officials named in the Township's complaint are state officials. The complaint will be heard August 16, at the same time as West Windsor's, although the two complaints are separate.

Princeton's two communities have shared their school costs on a per pupil basis. The Township, with 72 percent of the pupils, has paid 72 percent of the costs, and the Borough, 28 percent.

Under a rateables formula, the Township would pay 65 percent, the Borough 35 percent. Under the five-year phase-in, the seven percent difference between 65 percent and 72 percent, is divided by five. Each of the five years, 1.4 percent will be subtracted from the per-pupil percentage. This year, therefore, the Township is paying 70.6 percent, although the municipality budgeted for the lower "rateables" figure.

The Borough's tax rate is lower than the Township's because of school costs, Mayor Bleiman says. The level of municipal expenditures is essentially the same, but the Borough has a smaller tax base so its local tax is higher than the Township's.

When the phase-in is over, Mayor Bleiman observes, Township and Borough tax rates may come together. One Borough member of the Consolidation Study Committee observed, "If money is a factor, I wouldn't vote for it in '77, ... but in '81 I would!"

However, there are intangibles affecting consolidation, as study committee members have observed. More volunteers to help run the town .... a larger pool for both political parties to draw candidates from .... as one of 12,000, I have access to my officials. Would I, when I'm one of 25,000?.... is 25,000 really a "big city?" .... with population about equal, would one community be engulfed by the other?

The Consolidation Study Committee has not yet reached any conclusions, chiefly because it hasn't been able to obtain information on the dollar effects of the tax shift.

MOFFAT TO BOARD

Over Republican Objection. Abbot Low Moffat was appointed Township Committee's representative to the Planning Board Monday by a 3-2 party-line vote.

He will serve until November when he must give up his Committee seat to whoever wins in the election. That person will not automatically take Mr. Moffat's seat on the Planning Board, however; a new appointment will be made January 1.

Republicans Elizabeth Hutter and Josie Hall wanted Mrs. Hall to be appointed, and voted "no" on Mr. Moffat. The next day, Mrs. Hutter attended Mayor Jay Bleiman's press conference and announced her "very deep disappointment" at the Moffat appointment.

She and Mrs. Hall felt there would be no continuity in a brief, three-month term, she said. She outlined her own record in voting for non-partisan or bi-partisan appointments, and said she did not regard the Planning Board appointment as "a political plum."

Earlier, Mrs. Hutter said both she and Mrs. Hall – the two Republicans on Committee – wanted the land-use aspect of the Master Plan reviewed "in greater depth" as the housing Master Plan moves toward completion and she spoke of decisions about where developments would be located and how many people would be in them. Only a few on the Planning Board had these land-use concerns, she said.

Mayor Bleiman pointed out that Mr. Moffat had served on the Planning Board before the election snarl that removed him from Committee, and said Mr. Moffat would indeed pay attention to land use.

"You do a disservice to the Planning Board to say that concern is not there," Mayor Bleiman chided.

At his press conference, he told Mrs. Hutter that appointees reflect the point of view and philosophy of the majority on the governing body, and he said the question was, "Which member would best do that?" and he felt that not only was Mr. Moffat the most qualified member, but the member most likely to represent the views of the Democratic majority on Committee.

He added that he regarded this appointment as different from appointments of citizens to the board.

BOROUGH COULD GAIN

In Quarry Park Acquisition. To everyone's surprise, the Borough may actually gain from the state's change of rules regarding acquisition of Quarry Park land, Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said this week.

In an exasperating, mid-stream switch last year, the state suddenly required different appraisal procedures in applications for Green Acres money. The Borough has now been informed that the municipality is not limited to an earlier appraisal of $272,000 but will automatically be in line for one-half of whatever appraisal is accepted.

Mayor Cawley said on Tuesday that the Borough doesn't know whether the Department of Transportation -- charged with approving appraisals because DOT land-acquisition procedures are so well-developed -- witt accept a new appraisal, said to be $500,000 but nobody in the Borough will confirm that rumor, or will ask for still another.

Meanwhile, the Borough has sent off its application for $152,000 in Federal HUD money, for required processing through the state's department of Community Affairs and the Delaware Valley Regional Planning Commission.

ZONERS SAY "YES"

In Borough. "Favorable" was the word all the way last week at the Borough Zoning Board's July meeting.

Princeton University was granted bulk variances and conditional use authorization to convert its single-family house at 99 Alexander into a dormitory -- for seven students, on the second floor -- and a first-floor apartment. Mrs. E.V. Garretson was given minor exceptions for minor additions to property at 14 Edgehill.

Martin P. Lombardo, 16 Bank Street, was given approval for a proposal to create an off-street parking space in the side yard of his house and the house next door at 14 Bank, owned by the University. Surveying snarls involving four properties on

NEW MAP AVAILABLE

Showing Historic Buildings. A Bicentennial Map and Guide of Princeton Borough and Township prepared by the Historical Society is now available to visitors and interested local residents.

Printed on heavy paper, the up-to-date 23x26 inch two color map pinpoints historic buildings that are open to the public and gives their visiting hours. It locates the 46 18th-century houses and buildings designated by the Society as significant to the community's architectural heritage. The map also provides a brief summary of the history of the town, a map and guide to the University campus and buildings and an index to all streets.

Sponsored by the First National Bank, Princeton Bank and Trust Company and Princeton Savings and Loan, the map was produced under the chairmanship of Alma R. Field of the Markers Committee of the Historical Society, which was responsible for placing plaques on buildings. Gerald Breese, map consultant, gave special assistance, and William Shellman of the University architecture department, did the illustrations.

Walter Fullam, president of the Historical Society, has emphasized that most of the designated homes are privately owned and are not open to the public. "We hope people will enjoy viewing these houses," said Mrs. Field, "But we also hope that they will recognize and respect the fact that the houses are private property.

Priced at $1 and rolled into a heavy mailing tube, the map is available at Bainbridge House, the Dinky Station Visitors Center, Borough and Township Halls and at the three banks.

NEW MAP OF PRINCETON: Gerald Breese and Alma R. Field are justifiably proud of the handsome new map of the Borough and Township published recently by the Historical Society. It is available at $1 at Bainbridge House and the Dinky Station.

CONSULTANT NAMED

For Housing Wrap-Up. A consultant who will pull together all the work that's ever been done toward a housing Master Plan for Princeton was appointed Monday night by the Princeton Regional Planning Board.

He is Carl Lindbloom, of Laurel Road, a planner who maintains offices in the J. Robert Hillier building in West Windsor. He was a member of the former Township Planning Board and is currently on the site plan review board. It is assumed that he will resign from this board to take on his new duties.

Mr. Lindbloom will draw together the Natural Resources Inventory, the Richard May report, the report of the Real Estate Research Corporation, William Miller's feasibility study, the work of William Queale on the center of Princeton and other studies and surveys prepared by interested groups or citizens.

He is scheduled to start work Monday and to finish the job in 12 weeks -- by the end of October. The fee is $5,000.

THOSE COUNTY TAXES

Is Change Possible? Can New Jersey's counties get court and welfare costs off the taxpayers' backs?

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, who is head of the Mercer County Mayors Advisory Committee, said this week his group is scheduled to talk about the question at its monthly meeting this Wednesday.

"Maybe we have a kind of Botter situation," the mayor said, referring to the court decision pointing to inequities in education between children in poor districts and children in rich districts.

"It's unfair to burden taxpayers with high welfare costs simply because they live in a county that has a big city," the mayor said. Under New Jersey law, court and welfare costs are borne by the counties and serve to keep the county tax rate high.

"So long as the county and the cities have no control, a basic principal of taxation seems violated," the mayor observed, "the state legislature has avoided the political problem by pushing these taxes onto the counties and the towns, where they're paid by property taxes. You could say the legislature is 'anti-reform' where the property tax is concerned – it isn't even neutral!"

County Freeholders have asked the mayors' group what mayors want the county to do, and Mayor Cawley said his highest priority is holding the county tax rate even, or to a minimal increase.

"These matters go to the heart of the secessionist movement," the mayor said, "I think there is some justification in the complaint of towns that want to secede."

Hopewell Borough and Township and Pennington Borough have voted to examine the possibility of breaking away from Mercer County and joining Hunterdon.

MOTHER, SON BURNED

When Solvent Explodes. A Borough mother and her seven-year old son suffered first degree burns Monday when a gallon can of solvent which they were using to try to ignite a charcoal fire exploded.

Mrs. Faith Ward, 251 Bayard Lane, was treated at Princeton Medical Center for first degree burns of the face and ear and released. Her son, George, was admitted for first and second degree burns of the arm, chest and forehead. They were taken to the hospital by a neighbor.

According to police, Mrs. Ward had used charcoal lighter fluid to start the fire but it had died out. Having no more fluid she used a gallon can of solvent to try to rekindle the fire. Drippings from the can ignited and it exploded in her hands.

The can had a number of uses listed on the outside, including "Directions for Charcoal Fires." Ptl. Mario Musso investigated the mishap which took place around 7:50 p.m. in the backyard.

Chief Frederick Porter commented that he felt quick action by neighbors and the victims themselves who rolled on the ground to smother the fire prevented the mishap from being more serious than it was.

PURSE IS SNATCHED

From Elderly Woman. One of two elderly women had her purse snatched last week as they were about to enter their first-floor apartment on Wiggins Street.

Police said that the women were approached by two men, one described as over six feet tall and the other much shorter. The six-footer pushed the victim to the floor, grabbed her pocketbook and ran off on Wiggins. A witness told police of seeing the men continue north on Humbert street, where they jumped into a dark-colored Mustang and drove off without the lights on.

The victim's black pocketbook contained a brown leather wallet with $17 inside and a coin purse containing $3. She was not injured.

Ptl. David Alston conducted the initial investigation. It is being continued by Det. Timothy Huizing.

3 PURSES GRABBED

In Separate Incidents. The purses of three women were grabbed last week in the Borough, police report.

A resident of the Tenacre Foundation left her purse unattended on a table for a short while in the Public Library and when she returned it was gone. Police said it contained a silver dollar, a small amount of change "and a lot of credit cards."

A Princeton woman left her purse on the front seat of her car for a few minutes to enter the Coin Wash, 259 Nassau Street. Returning, she discovered her brown wallet containing $4 was missing.

Earlier in the week, a Witherspoon Lane resident told police that she was upstairs bathing for about fifteen minutes and later discovered that her large blue canvas bag was missing from a front room couch. Inside were her purse, eyeglasses and credit cards. Total value of her loss: $130.

A Jefferson Road resident reported the theft of a power lawn mower from his garage and a stereo receiver and turntable were taken from a first-floor closet in the Campus Club.

Police said that someone inside the Club had observed a youth wearing sneakers, a light colored shirt and blue pants trying to unhook a pair of speakers at 1:20 in the morning. Aware that he had been seen, the suspect jumped out a window and escaped.

Police said the theft was not reported until 2:24 in the afternoon.

ANOTHER MOPED TAKEN

Third in Three Weeks. For the third week in a row, Borough police have reported the theft of a Moped cycle.

The most recent, an orange Motobecane model valued at $520 was stolen between 4 and 10 in the morning from the rear yard of its owner, a Witherspoon Street resident.

The front wheel of a bicycle chained to a rack in front of the Quadrangle Club on Propsect Avenue was stolen last week together with a yellow saddle bag which contained the owner's eyeglasses. Police said that the front wheel was a quick release type ;that did not require tools to remove. The victim is a Prospect Avenue resident.

Rider Injured. A 22-year old Hamilton Square woman sustained scalp lacerations Saturday evening when she lost control of her bicycle on Bunn Drive, fell to the roadway and struck her head.

Police said that the victim, Barbara Hawk, was riding with another cyclist and had turned to talk when she lost her balance. She was taken by the First Aid Squad to Princeton Medical Center and admitted for observations. Ptl. Jerry Offredo investigated.

CB THEFTS CONTINUE

Three More Stolen. Princeton police continue to wrestle with the rash of citizen ban radio thefts, as three more were reported taken last week.

A CB valued at $159 was stolen Monday from an unlocked car parked in the Princeton Bank and Trust lot on Route 206. Police identified the owner as David H. Stockwell of Summit. Another out-of-the-area resident, Francis H. Reynolds of Kenilworth reported the theft the same day of a $105 CB from his car while it was parked in the Princeton Shopping Center lot. Police believe that a coat hanger was used to enter the locked car.

Ralph Kleiber, 8 Roberts Road, discovered last week that an attempt had been made to remove a CB radio from his pickup truck while it was parked in the Shopping Center lot. Apparently, police said, the thief was unable to dislodge the radio and took its microphone valued at $10. The truck was unlocked.

In the Borough, a Westminster Choir College student reported the theft of a CB from his car which was forced open while it was parked in the school's north lot. Police did not receive a value on the stolen radio.

In another theft from a motor vehicle, the vent window of a truck parked in a Lawrence Court lot was smashed, its glove compartment rifled and $1.30 in cigarettes stolen. Police said that owner Jose G. Tunning of Lawrence Court discovered the theft Saturday night.

TWELVE ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Twelve Princeton area residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court.

Judge Philip Carchman fined four $15 each for speeding: Stephen B. Towns, 29 Clay Street; Marianne Fumia, 90 Dodds Lane; John B. Guthrie, 330 Jefferson Road, and Karen S. Baldwin, 174 Washington Road, Rocky Hill. Paul Helfenstein, 38 Wiggins Street, was fined $30. Paying fines of $15 each for red light violations were Mark A. Lovering, 54 Hillside Drive; James W. Hoy, Windsor Castle Apartments, Cranbury,

News Of The THEATRES

NEW YORK BY THE LAKE

"Prisoner of Second Avenue." The Theatre-by-the-Lake in Hightstown will stage Neil Simon's comedy, "The Prisoner of Second Avenue" starting next Thursday, August 5, and playing that Friday and Saturday with an 8:30 curtain each evening. The theatre, indoors, is in Geiger-Reeves Hall on the campus of Peddie School, South Main and Ward Streets in Hightstown.

In "Prisoner of Second Avenue," playwright Simon describes the impinging city in the lives of a young married couple. Robbery, unemployment, uncollected garbage, nasty neighbors, barking dogs . . . the husband escapes into a nervous breakdown and Mr. Simon somehow finds the humor in it all.

Richard L. Hutchinson plays the husband and Jane Beard his wife. A charter member of Theatre-by-the-Lake, Mr. Hutchinson was Captain Brackett in this season's "South Pacific" and has appeared also in "The Odd Couple," "Play it Again, Sam," and "West Side Story." A graduate of Yale, he is a law student at U.S.C. in the academic season.

Ms. Beard, making her debut with Theatre-by-the-Lake, started out as a child actor in Creative Theatre Unlimited. At George Washington University, where she will be a junior this year, she played Blanche in "A Streetcar Named Desire" and Madame Constance in "The Madwoman of Chaillot."

Others in the cast are Marilyn Lokietz, Natalie Stewart, Evie Thompson and Bob Shimer. The director is Amarae Brockway, founder of Princeton's Street Theatre and currently a candidate for the master's degree in theatre at Rutgers. She is also a teacher and director at Creative Theatre Unlimited.

Evie Thompson is stage manager, Ron Brockway is the set designer and Lee Allen the lighting designer. Mr. Brockway is a construction engineer at Channel 52 and has worked as a lighting designer at McCarter Theatre, and technical director at Theatre Intime.

ON FILM

Classic Greats. Three more classic oldies will be on Summer Intime's film schedule next week, all of them to be screened in McCormick Art Museum theatre, next to Murray Theatre, with show time at 7:30 p.m.

"The Tiger Makes Out", a comedy about modern living, stars Eli Wallach and Anne Jackson in a Murray Schisgal play. To be shown Monday night.

"All the King's Men," is the Oscar-winning production of Robert Penn Warren's novel, starring Broderick Crawford as the demagogue. For Tuesday evening.

"Broadway Melody of 1940" is the one with "Begin the Beguine" and Cole Porter himself on piano, with Eleanor Powell, Fred Asaire, and George Murphy. It's Wednesday's offering.

"FRACTURED FABLES...."

From Street Theatre. They're saying that "Fractured Fairy Fables," the new Street Theatre play for children, has a talking flounder in the cast, whether stuffed with crab nobody will say, along with the usual run of peasants, farmers, princes and so on.

It will open this Thursday at 2 p.m. in the West Windsor recreation program and will be given again for the Princeton YWCA's program at Stuart School this Friday at 1 p.m.

A performance for the Hightstown Y will be given next Wednesday, August 4, at 2:30, and for Princeton's YMCA on Friday, August 6 at 3:15 p.m.

Debbie Bellow is directing "Fractured Fairy Fables" assisted by Jill Kendall as stage manager and assistant director; Jon Tenney and Geoff Carroll, props and Margie Wachtel, costumes.

Actors in the cast are Jon Tenney, Rochelle Jacobs, Julie H. Miller, Mary Beth D'Amico, Myra Chanley, Megan Sharaf, Steffie Kenen, Marilyn Shanfield and Andrena Burgess. Ali Henderson's flute and the guitars of Julie McI. Miller and Andrena Burgess provide the music.

Street Theatre is still soliciting funds – the group survives solely on donations and performs free of charge – and those who would like to contribute are invited to send checks to Street Theatre, Dorothea House, 120 John Street, Princeton. Questions may be addressed to 924-7452.

TWO....

". . . . for the Seesaw." A two-character comedy about a tough — or is she? — New York girl and a Nebraska lawyer is called "Two for the Seesaw" and it will opn on Murray Theatre's stage this Thursday as the third show of the summer season for Summer Intime.

Curtain time is 8:30. The show will play this Friday, Saturday and Sunday also, and August 5-8.

Director Kimothy Cruse has Jamie Horton as the young lawyer and Anne Louise Hoffmann as the dancer-seamstress who never quite made it in the Big City. William Gibson, the playwright, describes the relationship between two warm and sensitive people in what Intime calls "a wacky romance."

Ms. Hoffman has played many roles for Intime, among them Sallie in "The Voice of the Turtle" and Raina in "Arms and the Man." Mr. Horton was Maurice in this season's "Fallen Angels" and last year, he was in "Measure for Measure," and "The Real Inspector Hound."

.....FROM 1767

America's First Comic Opera, "The Disappointment, or The Force of Credulity," composed in 1767 but never performed in its own time, will be presented August 27, 28 and 29 and September 1, 2, 3 and 4 in the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing State Park

Several community groups are involved in the production of "The Disappointment," including the Princeton Opera

Association, Westminster Choir College, Princeton Community Players and even the Princeton Chamber of Commerce, although what role the Chamber of Commerce will play has not yet been revealed.

Joanne Mohrman, the producer, and Laura Reilly, props chairman, have sent out a request for various props needed in order to produce an atmosphere of authenticity. If you have....

An old Dutch almanac
A tray with barber's tools
An old iron-bound chest
A tailor's table

....you are invited to call Ms. Reilly at 921-4526.

Lenya Gabriele is directing "The Disappointment," which is a play with songs, or "ballad opera." Original music has been arranged and orchestrated by Stanley Sonntag, using basic melodies popular in the American colonies in the 1700s.

The story, by Andrew Barton, is about treasure-hunting in 18th-century Philadelphia. The play was never performed because, at the time, there was controversy about treasure-hunting, and the play ridicules prominent citizens of the day who were treasure-hunters.

FROM THE GOTHIC....

Fairy Tales and Myths. Four one-act plays, each one the dramatization of a folk myth, will be presented this Friday and Saturday as the second production of the summer for Twilight Theatre. The plays will, as before, be given in the auditorium of the old Nassau Street School, 185 Nassau. Admission is $1.50.

The four plays are Snow White, The Three Wishes, Beauty and the Beast and The Emperor's Nightingale. In an adaptation by Meg Starr, "Snow White" will be directed to an adult audience (although children are welcome), with the cyclical nature of the tale emphasized. Cathy Boonin will be Snow White and Carrie Kidd will portray The Wicked Queen.

"Beauty and the Beast," under Dinah PoKempner's direction, will be performed in story theatre fashion, with characters narrating their own actions. The director follows the Jungian interpretation of the tale, emphasizing the struggle of a young girl between her father and her husband. Beauty will be Tonia Saxon and Beast will be Jeff Stein.

The shortest and most comic of the plays is "The Three Wishes," in which a poor woodsman receives three wishes from a fairy he meets in the forest. The play will be in old English, with a great deal of mime. Actors are Matthew Cahn, Beth Adler and Dini Chandra.

The final play in the quartet, "The Emperor's Nightingale," is a dramatization of Hans Christian Andersen's fairy tale, which he wrote for Jenny Lind, the Swedish soprano often called "the nightingale". The play will be performed with narration by Walter Broner. Ted Heilweil will be the Emperor, and Amy Ford and Beatrice Liu will provide music from recorder and harpsichord. Premi Chandra is directing.

CLASSIC SEA FILM SET

At West Windsor High. The film version of the classic sea saga about Captain Bligh, starring Charles Laughton and Clark Gable, will be shown Friday at 7:30 at the West Windsor-Plainsboro High School located on the corner of Princeton-Hightstown and Clarksville Roads in West Windsor.

This free film showing is one in a series presented by the Mercer County Library System as part of its community involvement program. Because of the arrangements under which these films are obtained, it is not possible to publish the name of the film or the producer.

Mrs. Lucilla Tilton, West Windsor Librarian, advises that the last film showing attracted an audience of approximately 100. Additional information about the series is available at the West Windsor Branch Library on Village Road West.

MONTGOMERY

The Sailor Who Fell With Grace From The Sea. Based on the novel by the late Japanese author Yukio Mishima, this romantic horror story stars Sarah Miles as a passionate English widow and Kris Kristofferson as a virile American merchant seaman whose erotic but short-lived romance is shattered by her disturbed young son.

The son's (Jonathan Kahn) major hangup is an obsession with the "purity and perfection" of the sea. When a large American ship is forced to dock, Miles obtains permission to take her son on board where both become captivated by captain Kristofferson. The boy begins to worship the sailor as a living symbol of the sea he loves so well.

But when Kristofferson returns several months later and decides to settle down with Miles as his wife, the boy turns against him, convinced that moving onto land would be the ultimate betrayal of the sailor's essence. Aided by his bizarre playmates, the youth resorts to grisly means to insure that Kristofferson will return to a state of grace with the sea.

PRINCE

Harry and Walter Go To New York. James Caan and Elliott Gould play two good-natured but bumbling vaudevillians who've always dreamed of making the big time in this unabashedly silly, but rather likeable farce. They finally do in turn-of-the-century New York as -- safecrackers.

The jokes and pratfalls are delivered with no more grace than a fairground Punch and Judy show but delivered nonetheless. Caan and Gould pull out all the stops and although virtually everyone connected with the film -- except perhaps Michael Caine as a dry and urbane gentleman thief -- ends up working a trifle too hard for laughs, there are more than enough genuine, low-level chuckles along the way.

Caan and Gould are first rate but Diane Keaton as a zealous proletariat newspaper woman again confirms her status as one of the more original comic talents on the screen today and Caine nearly steals the show in his brief appearance as Caan's and Gould's Oxford-educated criminal nemesis.

A PRETTY INVESTMENT

Gem Stones from Morigi. In the market for an inflation-proof investment? Although nothing is without risk, you might consider buying gem stones, which Gilda Morigi reports have gone up in value, while the purchasing value of money has continued to decline.

However, don't let the word investment cause you to think in large figures. Not all gem stones are expensive, but they are all real. At Morigi, which has recently moved to 16 Witherspoon Street after four years at 199 Nassau Street, you will not find any synthetic, fake, glass or plastic stones – only gems.

A member of the Gemological Institute of America, Mrs. Morigi told us that to be called a gem stone it must grow naturally in the earth, be cut from a crystal or aggregate, and be one of 20 acknowledged gem species.

This adds up to many different gem stones, some of which look identical to the untrained eye, and yet the prices can vary widely depending upon their availability. For instance a soft apricot imperial topaz ring surrounded by eight small diamonds costs $950 while a quartz topaz one (really a citrine) about twice the size is $165. Both are set in gold and the difference is the basic price per carat.

Middleman Eliminated.

AT MORIGI: Standing before a display of amethyst pendants, Gilda Morigi holds an old Chinese hand-carved incense urn.

Lapis and sodalite can also be confused as can serpentine and jade, but Mrs. Morigi is most particular about telling people what they are getting.

In addition to her store, she does public relations work for the Brazilian government on gem stones. This means several trips a year to Brazil where she is able to choose her own stones, thus eliminating a middleman and helping to keep the prices reasonable.

According to Mrs. Morigi, "It is not enough for jewelry to be beautiful, it must be comfortable too," and so with two gold and silversmiths she works on new designs. An example of this is a long oval gold filigree ring with a garnet in the center. It is perfectly curved and so never gets in the way despite the fact that it goes beyond the knuckle of the index finger.

We were particularly impressed by the creativity of the designs. The finished pieces are lovely and unlike anything we have seen elsewhere. For instance a ring in the shape of an Egyptian woman's head features three different textured golds to set off her hair, face and collar which is trimmed with a small coral, $395.

Bi-Color Tourmaline. There is also an unusual soft green and pink bi-color tourmaline pendant set in a delicate gold frame, $1750. Tourmalines have more chemical elements than any other gem and thus come in every conceivable color, but this one happened to change in mid-growth.

One of our favorite pieces, however, was an 18-inch necklace of blue Russian lapis beads set off by an oval gold bead and a pearl on each side, $550. Mrs. Morigi also has lapis beads from Afghanistan which she feels is the best available, and a plain strand of these should sell for about $150.

Since moving into the center of town, she has added a few less expensive items, but again all of them are real. Particularly attractive are the serpentine medallions hand-carved in China to feature traditional designs. They cost $21.50, which is less than costume jewelry often sells for, and yet here you have something real in the form of serpentine.

You'll also see men's jewelry such as rings or a handsome heavy square textured gold buckle; lovely narrow boxes of malachite or sodalite, both of which are beautifully marked and have a translucent quality; and a collection of small animals hand-carved from natural gem stones such as a green aventurine quartz turtle, $16.

Turquoise, especially in American Indian jewelry, probably has been the most sought after stone in recent years, and yet as Mrs. Morigi says, "There just is not enough to go around." As a result much of it has been treated in some way, but what you'll find here is quite pale and all real. The stones are loose, but a flat teardrop-shaped one, set in silver, and large enough to be worn as a pendant, costs about $65.

Located at 16 Witherspoon Street, Morigi is open Monday through Saturday from 10 until 5, except Thursdays when the store is closed.

EXPRESSIONS EXPANDS

New Lines Added. Although Expressions was a large gift store to begin with, owners Ellen and Walter Gellner felt things were getting overcrowded, and so they expanded next door into part of what had been Bob Lang's.

Two more windows may not sound that large, but when you consider the depth of this particular store, it means an additional 1,200 square feet – enough to be a store in itself. The total size is now 4,500 square feet and the new space has enabled them to add many extra lines within the same basic areas.

Cards are a major part of Expressions' business, and now in addition to Hallmark Paw Prints and Gordon Fraser, there are cards by Suzy's Zoo, animal farm cards from Recycled Paper Products, Conspari, and Mini-Tickers which is a division of Yankee Magazine.

From Nutmeg Papers there are cards with a visual message only, such as one with a small mouse who picks a dandelion for his girl and then has all the seeds blow away before he can present it.

Two other lines that should be mentioned are the plain notes by Elgin Court of England with art prints on the front, including Blanche Fisher Wright's illustrations from "The Real Mother Goose;" and Whitney McDermut's cards with silk screens of famous art works that can be removed and even framed as small pictures if you wish.

The stationery has been expanded too and a nice feature here is the addition of gift items, such as binders with prints of Persian manuscripts from the Metropolitan Museum of Art on the covers. They come in two sizes, to fit a steno book or a yellow legal-size pad, and they cost $7 and $14 respectively.

Albums, Files, Diaries. We also saw address books, photo albums (wedding ones too,) recipe files, guest books and travel diaries. Particularly interesting here was a group of brushed-suede-like books with blank pages ready to fill any need. They come in four colors and three sizes priced from $3.50 to $6.50.

The stationery itself ranges from brightly colored solid papers to Snoopy notes to an Eaton's gift pack in a wildflower print to woodcuts of typical Maine scenes.

Party goods is the other large area here, and to start any party off right, Mr. Gellner told us there are more than 200 different invitations. You'll also find paper cloths, coasters, napkins, plates and cups (plastic ones too) to make cleaning up a breeze, and they come in lots of designs such as a pretty red and green strawberry vine one.

To complete the picture there are candles, and again the choice is incredible. All colors are represented, and three lines are here -- Colonial Candles, hand dipped Williamsburg ones and the Blue Gate pillars that burn for 50 hours.

The gift area remains basically the same, except for the important addition of a new group of music boxes. Most intriquing are the paperweights which are clear so you can watch the movements and yet each has a brass ring on top to hold a photograph in place, $12.

The tunes include Scott Joplin's "The Entertainer," "I'd like to Teach the World to Sing" in a box with birds on the cover, and "It's a Small World" in a box shaped like Snoopy and his dog house.

Summer is still very much with us and the perfect season for a leisurely picnic. At Expressions, ready to be filled with goodies, is a natural wicker hamper that opens from both sides, or for a more luxurious touch one that comes fully equipped with thermoses, containers, plates and utensils, $20 and $90 respectively.

Then when the meal is over, relax with a few games of Backgammon and again there is a set for every appetite, starting at $12.50 for a small magnetic travel one and going up to $90 for a larger set in a dark brown leather case.

Located in the Princeton Shopping Center, Expressions is open Monday through Saturday from 10 until 5:30, with Thursday and Friday evening hours until 9.

TWO GRANTS RECEIVED

By N.J. Education Consortium. The New Jersey Educational Consortium, (NJEC) 228 Alexander Street, has received two federal grants, one from the Fund for the Improvement of Post-Secondary Education (FIPSE) to begin a program for adults wanting to continue their education; the other from the Office of Coastal Zone Management to start the first "Foxfire" projects in New Jersey.

The NJEC is a private, non)profit organization which, acting on the assumption that within the American public there is a vast unserved or ill-served market of potential learners, serves as a broker between such individuals and appropriate educational resources.

The FIPSE grant is to enable the NJEC to open centers in three urban locations where adults can obtain assistance in a.)establishing educational-career goals and alternatives for reaching them, and b.) preparing a portfolio of life experience and training for submission to Thomas A. Edison College, or other colleges and universities equipped to assess knowledge in terms of college credit.

The NJEC has selected Perth Amboy, Trenton and Camden as the sites for these pilot centers and has already begun the task of finding space and staff.

The grant from the Office of Coastal Zone Management (U.S. Department of Commerce) will enable the NJEC to begin "Foxfire" projects in two New Jersey school districts.

The Foxfire learning concept originated as an inquiry into local folklife by school students at Rabun Gap, Georgia and led to the quarterly publication of Foxfire magazine and subsequently the Foxfire Book and Foxfire 2. Students learn to discover, research and publish their own community's cultural heritage and folklore through the recording of folklife as remembered and practiced by the oldest generations in their communities.

and Francisco Lasarte, 4 East Stanworth Drive.

Others: Wilson C. Obi, 110 Washington Road, $25, improper left turn; Eric Barton, East Mountain Road, Belle Mead, $25, obstructing passage; Michael P. Laznovsky, 81 Bertrand Drive, $10, no registration in possession, and Valerie Glauser, 73 Stockton Street, $10, riding a bicycle without lights.

Township Court. In Township court last week Judge Carchman fined three for careless driving. They are Bertram Petersen, The Great Road, $25, and Walter L. Harris 3d, Millstone Road, Cranbury, and Evelyn P. Luquer, 48 Parkside Drive, both $30. Mrs. Luquer was also ordered to undergo a re-examination.

Speeding cost Paul Benacerraf, 120 Broadmead, and W.J. Walsh Jr., 10 Nelson Ridge Road, $31 each.

For backing or turning in a street, Horace Brown, 7 Quarry Street, was fined $30. Hilda S. Wagner, 145 Valley Road, paid the same amount for failing to keep right. Mrs. Wagner was ordered to undergo a re-examination.

WILL FEDS CLIMB ON?

Township Hopes So. With at least two Township Committee members applying the brake every foot of the way, Committee voted 3-2 Monday to find out whether the Federal government will let the Township into a demonstration bikepath project.

If the answer is "yes," Federal money will pay 80 percent of the $159,000 cost, leaving the Township with $32,000 to be assessed. That's one-half the amount in the original draft proposal prepared by Committee member Abbot Low Moffat. His $319,000 network was reduced to $271,025 in conference with Committee member Elizabeth Hutter who was willing to go along with Mr. Moffat if he'd cut some things out.

Two other members of Committee -- Margaret Broadwater and Josie Hall -- were firmly negative and voted against most of the proposals, Mrs. Broadwater explaining that safety alone was her sole consideration.

The dollar amount includes $10,000 for the required evaluation process, $3,000 for signs and $4,500 for curbcuts. Here's the way the plan worked out:

- A Kingston Road path from Prospect Avenue to the bridge at Kingston, but no money for what could be, in Mrs. Hutter's view, an expensive bridge across Harry's Brook.
- A Stockton Street path along heavily-travelled Route 206, where there is no sidewalk.
- Crossing of Route 206 near Community Park, which, with some trimming by Committee, would provide generally for access to recreation facilities from the Leigh-Birch area.
- A path from Bunn Drive to the Yedlin project on Mt. Lucas, to State Road. This will be eliminated if the Yedlin housing project isn't built.
- A Snowden Lane-Bertrand Drive path, to be six and one-half feet wide instead of eight feet, with no construction machinery allowed. Residents of this area, who protested construction of a Loop Road, did ask for a bike path.
- A path from Hartley Avenue along Harrison Street to the bridge, connecting with the towpath on the far side of the lake and the University's Forrestal project.
- Eliminated were a path along Alexander Street and along Terhune Road.

At Monday afternoon's meeting, one citizen appeared to voice vigorous protest.

"As a cyclist," declared Meredith Langberg, 74 Wheatsheaf Lane, "I feel the bike path concept is ill-conceived and impractical. Paths aren't used, and aren't worth a penny of Township money, except for dangerous spots. Besides, they're wide enough, but tree branches can decapitate you! Money should be used instead for transportation for the elderly."

Mrs. Hutter proposed a long-range study of bike paths, and observed that it takes a long time for people to get used to using the paths.

Mrs. Broadwater urged stiffer enforcement of speed laws and stop signs, and proposed an educational program for cyclists.

Monday's meeting, held at 2 p.m. because of conflict with other meetings if it had been held in the evening, drew strong protest from Robert Hosford, 430 Terhune Road.

WHAT WOULD YOU LIKE TO SEE? Borough Council Martin Lombardo is in the process of interviewing children at the Princeton playgrounds, asking them--and adults--what other things they would like to see added to the parks. Some of the suggestions at the John Street park Monday were the addition of a toy chest, monkey bars, sliding board, pool cover and bathroom. Mr. Lombardo also discussed bike paths, the Hallowe'en Parade and the possibility of a Farm Day at one of the playgrounds complete with horse rides. A good politician, Mr. Lombardo, cut up a watermelon he had brought for the kids in return for their answers. He plans to visit each playground.

WARRANT ISSUED

For Break-In Suspect. A warrant charging breaking and entering and attempted larceny has been issued by Borough police for the arrest of Larry Miller, 21, 29 Clay Street.

Miller allegedly tried to enter a Witherspoon Street home Thursday evening around 6, when police received a call that a robbery was in progress. Ptl. William Clark, Ptl. John Holcombe, Ptl. Gerald Patterson and Capt. Theodore Lewis responded and surrounded the house.

Ptl. Holcombe saw the suspect, police said, crouched in a front, glass-enclosed porch. As the suspect bolted out the door, he tried to conceal his face with his hat and ran north on Witherspoon.

During the chase, Capt. Lewis said that a Hamilton Township Constable in a pickup truck cut in front of the suspect to try to slow him down. However, the suspect ran up a driveway on Witherspoon Street, jumped a fence and managed to elude police in the Clay Street area.

Capt. Lewis reported that Ptl. Holcombe had recognized the suspect as he fled past him.

PAPER COLLECTION SET

By Junior Jaycees. The Princeton Junior Jaycees will hold a paper drive on Saturday and Sunday, August 14 and 15. Papers and magazines, which need not be bound or packaged, may be dropped off in a bin in the Palmer Square parking lot behind the Playhouse Theatre. The Junior Jaycees also plan to go out and collect papers from certain sections of the town which will be notified in advance.

The Junior Jaycees, an affiliate of the Greater Princeton Jaycees, is a group of young people between the ages of 14 and 18 whose aim is to enrich the community while learning leadership skills. Past projects have included the CROP walk, the Bicentennial renovation of the Dinky station and the fireworks. Other projects include the Senior Citizens Picnic and possibly a dance in the fall.

For further information about the Junior Jaycees or the paper drive, call Bill Schmiedeskamp at 921-3851. Any interested persons are invited to help with this community project.

DECISION DUE

On Regional Sewer. Final decision on which sewer plan to approve was scheduled to be made late this Tuesday by the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority.

Officials are predicting that the Authority will vote for the single-plant Plan A. Cost estimates for a three-plant system proposed by William Whipple and others, were not included in the report describing the system and the Authority is understood to be reluctant to act on the report in the absence of those figures

MEETING MOVED

August Session Cancelled. The August meeting of the Princeton Regional Planning Board, scheduled for next Tuesday, has been cancelled because not enough members will be in town to make a quorum.

The next regular meeting of the board will be held Wednesday, September 8, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

The board's Environmental Design Review Committee was scheduled to meet this Wednesday, July 28, at 8 p.m.

Pepsi-NBA Hotshot Set

Applications for the Pepsi-NBA Hotshot competition for boys and girls 9 to 18 and sponsored here by the Joint Effort Sports Foundation can be obtained at the Princeton Recreation Office at the Valley Road School building, Center Sports, Varsity Sports, YMCA and all Princeton playgrounds.

Competition will continue through August 11. Winners' competition will be held August 14.

The schedule: Community Park, August 4, All day. (court on John & Clay Street). Marquand Park, August 3, 1-5 p.m. Erdman Avenue, August 2-5, 10-11:30 a.m., 1-2:30 p.m. Grover Avenue, August 2-6, Tues. and Thurs. 10-11:30, Wed. and Fri. 1-2:30. Harrison Street, August 2-6, 1-3 p.m. Riverside, August 2-6, 10-11 a.m., 2-3 p.m. Hamilton, August 3-4, 10-12 noon. Little Brook, August 4, 11-12 noon, 3-4 p.m.

in a special session to complete business left over from the July 12 meeting.

COMMITTEE NAMED

For Howell Farm Development. The Mercer County Park Commission has named a special citizens' committee for the development of the Howell Farm in Hopewell as a living history farm.

Serving on the Howell Farm Citizens' Advisory Committee are: James Sayen, chairman, of Princeton; Walter Fullam of Princeton; James Sears of Hightstown; Isobel Selikoff of East Windsor; Mrs. Charles Howell of Pennington; Charles Holmes, Michael Niski, Ray Howe and Clifford Parkhill, all of Titusville; James Haggerty, Jr., Robert Petito, Joseph Schmeltz, and Robert Simpkins, all of Trenton.

The 128-acre farm, on Pleasant Valley Road in Hopewell, was given to the Park Commission in 1974 by Mrs. Inez Howell of Pennington. At that time it was announced that it would be restored to a living history farm, complete with livestock, of the period 1920-1940.

PATENTS ISSUED

To Western Electric Man. Frank J. Fuchs Jr., 9 University Way, Princeton Junction, a research consultant in metal forming studies at Western Electric's Engineering Research Center on Carter Road has recently been issued four U.S. Patents in the area of metal forming.

Mr. Fuchs received a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from Duke University and is a registered professional engineer in both North Carolina and New Jersey. He now holds approximately 90 U.S. Patents on various machines, tools and processes, many of them in the area of high pressure metal forming. Under his direction, a new method for continuously forming wire by high pressure extrusion was developed at the Research Center.

ASSETS RISE SHARPLY

At Princeton Savings. Geographical expansion highlighted the first six months of 1976 for Princeton Savings as a result of the merger with Peoples Savings as of January, 1976.

William Boozer, president, pointed out that Princeton Savings witnessed a dramatic rise of its assets to an all-time high of $82,963,883, representing a gain of more than $28 million, or 52 percent over June 30, 1975. The merger accounted for $14 million of this figure.

Total deposits at Princeton Savings, which encompass over 16,500 accounts advanced to $78,015,179, a 53 percent increase. Mr. Boozer continued, "As of June 30th, we had a total of $69,832,346 invested in home mortgages on property throughout the areas we serve. This is an increase of 46 percent from June to June."

OBITUARIES

William Cameron, 67, of New Hope, formerly of 2 Dickinson Street, died July 21 in the Hunterdon Medical Center following a long illness. He was a maintenance engineer at Princeton University for 25 years.

Born in Scotland, Mr. Cameron lived in New Hope for several years. He was an Army veteran of World War II assigned to Headquarters Detachment of the 1st Airborne Division, U.S. Army.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Catherine M. McClure Cameron; a brother, Edward Cameron of Scotland; and four sisters, Mrs. Margaret Huey of Hollywood, Fla., Mrs. Janet Zantano of Clifton, Mrs. Annie MacDonald and Mrs. Agnes Carr, both of Scotland.

The service was held at a Buckingham, Pa., funeral home. Memorial contributions may be made to the Salvation Army, 701 North Broad Street, Philadelphia.

Albert Wismer, 97, of West Windsor Township, formerly of Hamilton Township, died July 20 in the Merwick Unit of the Princeton Medical Center following a short illness. He was a retired mason for 42 years with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Born in Plumsted Township, Pa., he resided in the Trenton area for more than 50 years. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Railroad Relief.

Husband of the late Emma May Wismer, he is survived by two granddaughters, Mrs. Carole W. Budd of Joppatowne, Md., and Mrs. Doris Reed, with whom he resided.

The service was held at a Trenton funeral home, the Rev. E. Glenn Wadlington, pastor of Gethsemane Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Ewing Church Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to a charity of the donor's choice.

Howard F. Bowe, 56, of 30 Stillwell Road, Kendall Park, died July 20 in Thomas Jefferson Hospital in Philadelphia. Born in West New York, he lived in Kendall Park for 15 years.

Mr. Bowe was a district sales manager with the U.S. Line in New York City and a member of the Foreign Commerce Club. A lieutenant colonel in the Army during World War II and the Korean conflict, he served with the Fighting 69th Division.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Kathe Bowe, and a daughter, Patricia, at home.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated in St. Augustine's Church, Franklin Park. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, East Brunswick. Arrangements were under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Edward W. Durner, 73, of Middletown, died July 21 at Bay Shore Community Hospital in Holmdel. Born in Princeton, he lived in Brooklyn for 50 years before moving to Middletown two years ago.

He was a retired assistant vice-president of Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company in New York City where he worked for 44 years until his retirement in 1968. He was a graduate of New York University, class of 1924, and was a trustee of the Hunt Fund in New York City at the time of his death. He was a communicant of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church in Red Bank.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Marion Sonner Durner; three daughters, Mrs. Ann V. VinNimwegen of Tucson, Ariz., Mrs. Dorothy G. Edison of Corpus Christi, Tex., Mrs. Gertrude T. Sherman of Matawan; two sisters, Mrs. Estelle D. Brown and Miss Dorothy E. Durner, both of Lawrenceville.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated in St. Paul's Church. Burial was in the parish cemetery.

Alfred B. (Red) Mason, 87, of 41 Windwood Drive, Lawrenceville, died July 24 in the Princeton Medical Center. Born in Rocky Hill, he lived in the Rocky Hill-Princeton area until moving to Lawrenceville four years ago.

Mr. Mason retired in 1958 from the maintenance department of Princeton University where he worked for 25 years. He was a member of the Princeton University Employees Local 175 and was an exempt member of the Rocky Hill Fire Company.

He is survived by his wife, Carrie S. Mason; a son, Alfred R. Mason of Hamilton Township; four daughters, Mrs. Barbara Reinbeck of Somerset, Miss Sarah A. Mason and Miss Audrey Mason of Lawrenceville, and Mrs. Carol Perego, also of Lawrenceville; nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The service was held at the Mather funeral Home with burial in the Rocky Hill Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the Rocky Hill Fire Department or the Lawrence Township Emergency First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Mrs. Madelyne G. Githens, 76, of Tampa, Fla., formerly of Princeton, died July 13 in Tampa. Born in Rahway, she lived in Princeton for 10 years before moving to Tampa in 1943.

Mrs. Githens worked in the Graduate Council Office of Princeton University. She was a member of Trinity Chapter No. 240 of the Order of the Eastern Star and the First Christian Church in Tampa.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Beverly S. Hinkson of Princeton; a sister, Mrs. Laura I. Mead of Clearwater, Fla.; three grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

The service and interment were in Tampa.

Mrs. Alice Sorenson Berven, 74, of Canal Road, Griggstown, died July 21 at her home. For many years she was the proprietor of the Griggstown Store.

Mrs. Berven was also employed as a legal secretary and was a member of the Seamen's Church in Brooklyn and Griggstown Reformed Church.

Wife of the late Sgurd Berven, she is survived by a son, Raymond Berven of Griggstown; a brother, Harold Sorenson of Griggstown; and four grandchildren.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. Lee Crandall officiating. Burial was in Griggstown Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society or to the Griggstown Reformed Church.

News Of The CHURCHES

BIBLE SCHOOL PLANNED

And Vicar Welcomed. The Lutheran Church of the Messiah, 407 Nassau Street, will sponsor a Vacation Bible School from August 16 to 27. The church also recently welcomed its first Vicar, Jim Stender, at a coffee hour following church services.

Classes in the Bible School will be held each weekday morning from 9:30 until noon for children age 3 through those who have completed 6th grade. Time for singing, crafts, outdoor fun and snacks will be included.

The theme for the Bible School will be "The Lord, the Nation, the People," a two week course in Christian citizenship. Last year Messiah had 45 students enrolled, many from outside the church, and welcomes any who would like to come. For information call Pastor Allen A. Gartner, 921-3642.

Mr. Stender, the new vicar, was born in Wayzata, Minn. and attended the University of Minnesota and Oregon State University, graduating in 1974 with a degree in civil engineering. From Oregon State he went directly to Seminex, taking Greek and Hebrew during the summer. He is married to the former Mary Klahn from Portland, Oregon, and will begin work Sunday.

GUEST PREACHER SET

At Morning Star Church. Dr. John W. Williams Jr. of Oakland, Calif., will be the guest preacher Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Morning Star Church of God in Christ, 43½ Birch Avenue, and again on Monday.

According to Elder C. Guidry, pastor, Dr. Williams was dying of a bleeding ulcer in 1959 and doctors said there was no hope of recovery. Pastor Guidry invites all to "hear this great man of God" and how he was healed. He suggests bringing the sick and the lame.

STREET FAIR PLANNED

By Methodist Church. The United Methodist Church, Nassau Street and Vandeventer Avenue, will sponsor its second annual Street Fair, Saturday, September 11 from 9-4. As they did last year, church members will put their various talents to work to help raise money to meet the church's expenses.

The church also hopes to attract a number of dealers to display their wares at tables available at $10. There will be several church tables offering baked goods and handmade items. Cold drinks, hot dogs and other snacks will also be served by the youth group.

For more information call Hazel Benjamin at 921-8415 or Teddi Marciniak at 452-3335 daytime; or the church office at 924-2613 mornings.

THE STORY OF R.K., THE ACCOUNTANT
Written by a Princeton medical scientist, this new suspense novel gives a truly absorbing account of the world of a developing paranoid whose inhuman, bizarre activities are described vividly and with insight. Exciting, perhaps rather terrifying, it is thought-provoking and unique in its terse style and shocking content. $4.50 recent years, it has become a retreat and an away-from-home meeting place for dozens of community and university groups as well as a summer camp for inner-city boys and girls.

At the Potpourri the Country Store, under the supervision of Elizabeth Slayback, will feature many items ranging from hand-made gifts and baked goods to a display of home grown fruits and vegetables, for which prizes will be awarded. Also included will be good quality used items, an assortment of penny-candies, and a refreshment stand.

The Auction which was successful last year will be repeated. Helen Doherty, chairman, has gathered items, such as a brown tweed suit, an electric pencil sharpener, a silver-plated wine basket, two bathroom sinks, a weekend at the Nassau Inn plus 23 certificates for luncheons and dinners from restaurants in the Princeton area.

Another part of this year's auction will be a "Government Mystery Personality Grab Bag" in which single items from each contributor will be placed in separate paper bags. The identity of all the contributors will be known to the bidders but not the contents of the individual bags. So far, items have been received from President Gerald R. Ford, Mrs. Betty Ford, Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, Governors Brendan T. Byrne and Jay Hammond of Alaska.

For the children there will be rides on a fire engine and a make-up booth as well as an auction of specially selected articles on which only children will be permitted to bid. Rummage tables, furniture, books, novelty items, a "plant pourri," dance and choral groups, games and rides will also be available.

There will be a drawing for a trip for two to Puerto Rico as well as other prizes on the raffle. Tickets are expected to go on sale in early June.

Donations to the Potpourri are needed and will be greatly appreciated. Call the three co-chairman, Eleanor Weed, 452-5284; Pearl Bazel, 452-4641; or Helen Doherty, 452-4721.

FEDERAL HOUSES SHOWN

On New Jersey TV, Central Jersey has some of the most elegant and gracious Federal style houses to be found, according to producer-director Steve Arnesson, whose film, "Fare You Well Old House: Federal Style Houses of Central New Jersey" will be seen on New Jersey Public Television Sunday at 7 p.m.

Colross, Bow Hill Mansion, Mansgrove, the Israel Crane House, the Theophilus Phillips House and the Burlington County Court House all are known for their balanced lines and beautiful detail.

Colross was moved brick by brick from its original site in Alexandria, Virginia, to The Great Road, where it is now part of Princeton Day School. Bow Hill Mansion housed Emperor Joseph Bonaparte, exiled King of Spain. The Israel Crane House once took a walk down the street. The Phillips House is in Lawrenceville, and the Burlington County Court House finally settled in Mt. Holly after a bitter dispute between that city and Burlington for the privilege of being selected county seat.

Burlington historian Henry Bisbee will join Harry Devlin, host, for a look at some of these houses in a style prevalent from 1780 to 1840. Mr. Devlin, an illustrator of several books on architecture, is also president of the National Cartoonists Society and is a member of the New Jersey Council on the Arts, which assisted the production.

The Cranbury Consort of Cranbury, specialists in music from Early America, will be seen in this final segment of a three-part series in honor of the American Bicentennial. In American Bicentennial. In addition, the Princeton Ballet Society performs at Mansgrove.

COMMUNITY SCHOOL SET

In Montgomery. Montgomery Community School, a Montgomery Township Recreation Committee program, will begin its fall semester on September 13. Twenty courses and a lecture series will be offered.

Monday evening classes include bread baking, auto repair and maintenance, beginning bargello, beginning bridge, estate planning, guitar, making hors d'oeuvres, leather craft, winter bouquets and wood shop.

Wednesday evening classes include advanced bargello, all about meats, beginning clothing construction, beginning Spanish, cake decorating, furniture repair and refinishing, holiday cards and crafts, personal typing and photography. A special class in cardiopulmonary-resuscitation (CPR) will be offered on Tuesday evenings by the Montgomery First Aid Squad.

A six-week environmental lecture series will also be offered in which topics from the world of nature and environmental issues will be featured. Although Montgomery Community School is primarily for adults, high school students may also register for the course.

Course fees range from $10-$20, and senior citizens are eligible to receive a 50 percent discount on all courses. A descriptive brochure will be mailed to residents of Montgomery Township and Rocky Hill in August. Others may pick them up at the Municipal Building on Route 206, Belle Mead.

MORE FUNDS SOUGHT

For Red Cross Disaster Relief. Halfway through this Bicentennial year, the National Red Cross disaster relief expenditure has exceeded an all-time high of $35.1 million dollars. This is due to the over-lapping tragedies of Guam, Teton Dam, Houston and Tulsa.

It has been the most expensive disaster allocation in the Red Cross's 95-year history of supplying relief to disaster victims. A spokesman says, "... disaster funds have been depleted for the best of all reasons - the Red Cross has been doing the job it is supposed to do as an agent of the American people."

Red Cross Meets Goal.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Thanks to the neighborliness of many citizens of Princeton, Hightstown and other nearby communities, the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross has met its goal in the $10,000,000 disaster relief drive of the National Red Cross. The needs of victims of Typhoon Pamela on Guam, the Teton Dam disaster in Idaho and lesser disasters in Tulsa and Houston triggered the need for an unusual national effort.

We were asked to try to raise $3,754 as our fair share. All contributions for emergency relief which have been received in the Princeton Chapter have been sent directly to our National Disaster Headquarters.

To make every possible dollar available we agreed not to send individual acknowledgments of gifts; hence, we take this method of saying "Thank you on behalf of the thousands you have helped." The Princeton Red Cross is a partner agency with the Princeton Area United Fund.

Meeting Time Inconvenient.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter I have sent to Township Committee concerning the time of a public meeting called to discuss the bike path program.

ROBERT HOSFORD
430 Terhune Road

Like other taxpayers in Princeton Township, I have serious reservations regarding the meeting of the Township Committee to be held at 2:00 P.M. on July 26, 1976.

As indicated in the public notice posted at Township Hall, the only item to be discussed and perhaps acted on will be a proposed bike path program, the cost of which is estimated at $345,000 (Princeton Packet, July 21, 1976).

The time of the meeting is extremely unrealistic and, in my mind, violates the spirit and intent of the Open Public Meetings Act. That law insures "the right of its (New Jersey's) citizens . . . to attend all meetings of public bodies at which any business affecting the public is discussed or acted upon in any way except only in those circumstances where otherwise the public interest would be clearly endangered . . ."

When one considers how controversial the bike path issue is in the Township, it is not clear why you would schedule a meeting on the subject in the middle of a weekday afternoon. To do so is tantamount to holding an executive session for how many homeowners do you believe will be able to leave their jobs to attend the July 26 meeting?

I am not thinking merely of myself but of Township residents who commute to New York. Obviously, neither they nor I am being provided with the right to attend all public meetings of the Township Committee.

Until I read the article in the local press, it was my impression that the Township had decided to go slowly on carrying out a bike path program, mainly for economic reasons (e.g., the problem presented by additional funds required for operation of Princeton schools).

The argument can be used that the bulk of the estimated $343,000 would be paid by the Federal government. Such a contention is specious for whatever the Federal government would pay for bike paths would come from taxes you and I pay to the Federal government. Hence, such funding should not be regarded as a "handout."

As for bike paths that would be built along Terhune Road, you have not told homeowners 1) which side of the street they would be on (North or South), and 2) where they would begin and end. Furthermore, the estimated cost, $49,500, is not public knowledge.

I believe you err in trying to rush through this particular proposal. Although there may be members of the Township Committee who do not think it is a viable method, I suggest that the current proposal for new bike paths be put on the ballot this November in the form of a referendum.

Finally, I do not see how you can approve allocating $68,000 for construction of new bike paths when, for months, you have been saying that the Township is confronted by a financial dilemma. Under the circumstances, spending our taxes for construction of new bike paths costing over $300,000 can only be described as quixotic.

Community Aid Important.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

The article about the Princeton University Summer Chamber Concertys in the July 22nd issue of Town Topics contained the sentence, "Sponsors are E.R. Squibb & Co., RCA, The Gallup Organization, Inc., Kepner-Tregoe, Inc., and Firmenich, Inc."

While we are immensely grateful to the growing number of business firms for their support, we would like to make clear that the real financial backbone of these concerts has been the community itself. Without the many contributions, both small and large, made by concerned individuals, this community venture could not begin to survive—let alone flourish.

Name Change Unfortunate.
To The Editor of Town Topics:

Upon returning to Princeton after a short vacation, I was dumbfounded to learn that the Mayor proposed and the Borough Council passed a resolution which would change the name of Avalon Place to Paul Robeson Place.

This I understand was done on July 8, 1976, in spite of two petitions, with a total of 170 signatures, three letters, and five persons in attendance, all opposing the change of the name.

At the time that Dr. Tertius Van Dyke generously agreed to sell his father's house and land (Avalon) to the YMCA for a generously low sum, he expressed the hope to me that the new road would be called Avalon Place. I was President of the Princeton YMCA at the time, and the Board of Directors of the Y and I all agreed to so name the street. Subsequently, land was given by the YM-YWCA Trustees to allow the street to be built.

To change the name to Paul Robeson Place certainly sounds like a cheap political move, and is hardly worthy of the governing body of Princeton Borough. Let's hope that others who feel this way will make their views known.

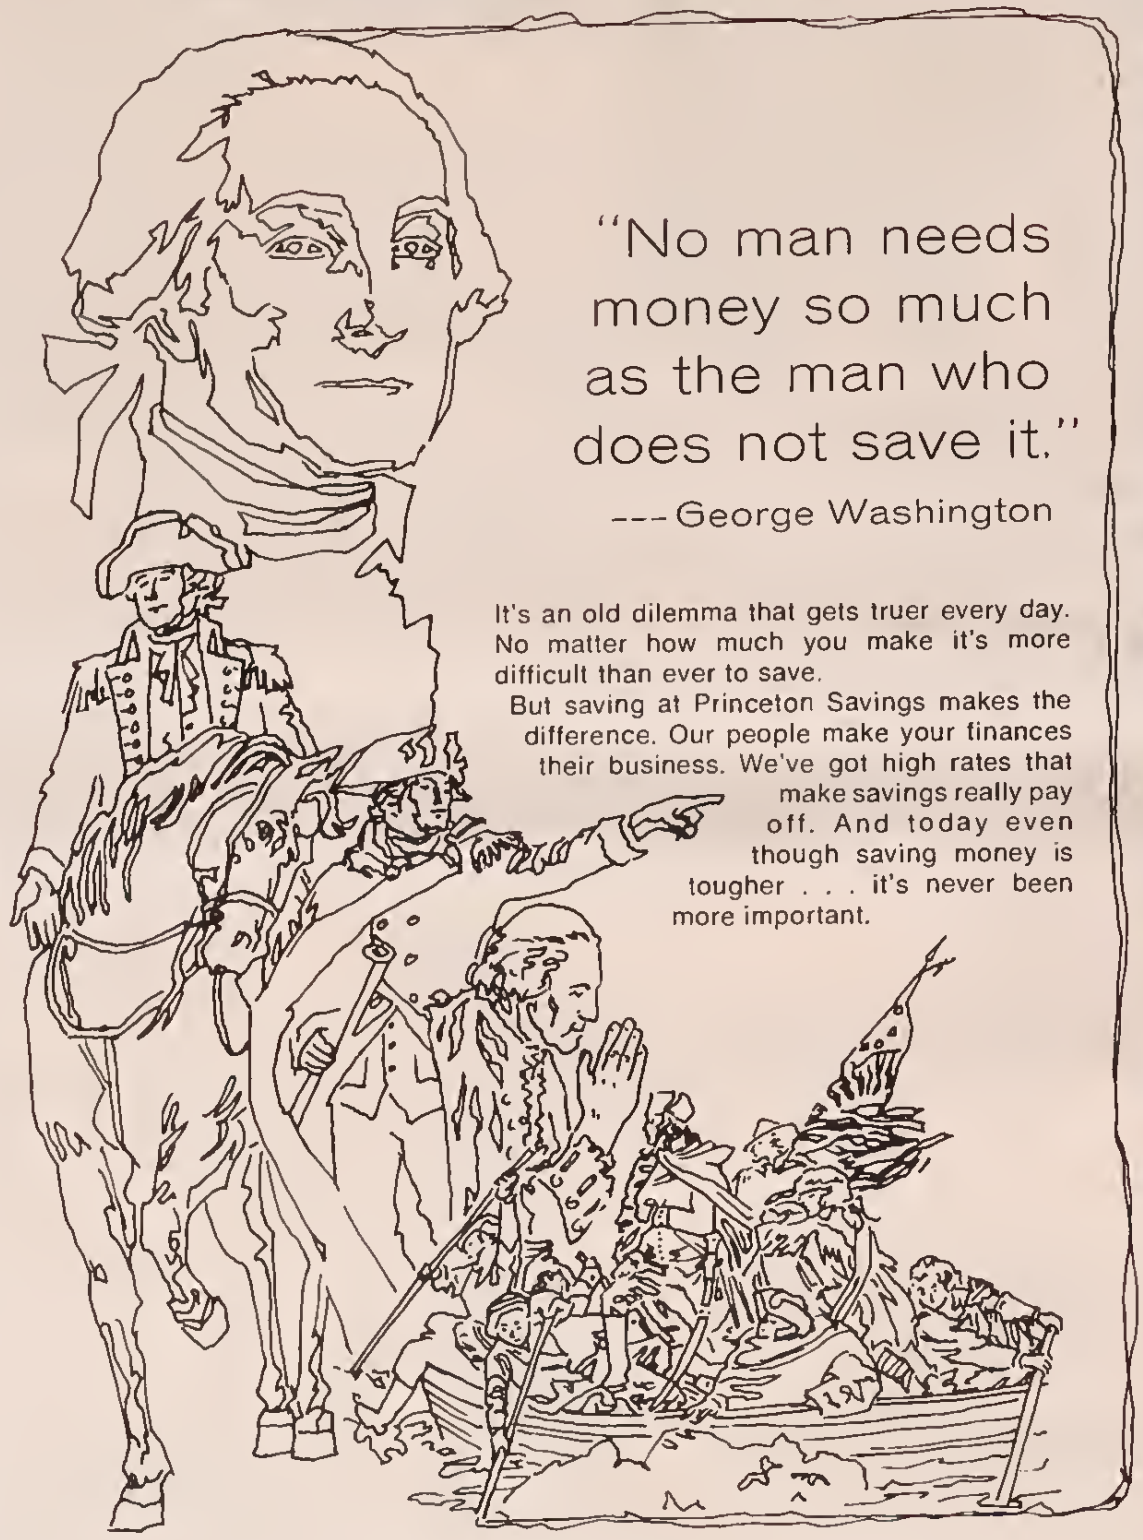
P S WHERE PEOPLE MAKE THE DIFFERENCE



"No man needs money so much as the man who does not save it."
---George Washington

It's an old dilemma that gets truer every day. No matter how much you make it's more difficult than ever to save.

But saving at Princeton Savings makes the difference. Our people make your finances their business. We've got high rates that make savings really pay off. And today even though saving money is tougher . . . it's never been more important.

You Don't Have to be Squore to Dance

Don't know how to square dance? No matter. Come down to the Dinky station this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. anyway, and Manny The Jumping Jersey Jester will turn on all his genial charm and have you squaring and dancing long before the 9 p.m. closing time.

It's the next in Princeton's Summer Sounds outdoor music program, free, come one, come all. Rain: Borough Hall gym.

Manny -- his last name is Amor -- is a member of the New Jersey Square Callers Association, so you can see how expert he is. Sponsors of Summer Sounds hope the Princeton Squares, who are practically pros, will be there to give you a hand, too.

University Place, by the way, will be blocked off down to the taxi stand, but there will be room left at the bottom so you can get off your commuter train.

Grand right and left, do-se-do, swing your partner -- you know all the good old calls. But not dig for the oyster -- that's Virginia Reel and a wholly different kettle of fish.

Even if you don't want to try square dancing, wouldn't it be fun to watch?

exists, as National Red Cross disaster relief funds were totally exhausted in meeting individual's needs for food, clothing, some furnishings, rent for temporary housing, medical care and occupational supplies. Every Red Cross Chapter was asked to participate in emergency fund-raising to help far-flung disaster victims.

The Princeton Chapter was asked to try to meet an emergency goal of $3,754 for disaster aid. The response from the Princeton-area community was immediate and generous. The Princeton Chapter was one of eight chapters in Central and Northern New Jersey that was able to meet its goal. But, as of July 2, $6,000,000 was still lacking from the national quota.

On July 11, President Ford, in asking for legislation to provide $200 million for indemnification of losses caused by the Teton Dam break on June 5, added that this should not be construed as "diminishing the need for Red Cross emergency services to affected families."

Prior to the Teton Dam collapse, when an avalanche of water flooded a vast area in which more than 4,000 families suffered losses of homes and farmlands, Typhoon Pamela's late May attack on Guam and the Mariana Islands, and other U.S. Trust Territories in the Pacific affected some 18,500 families who registered for Red Cross aid. Typhoon winds of 190 mph blew all the birds on Guam off the island, and the island was almost completely defoliated.

On Memorial Day weekend, massive flooding in Tulsa, Oklahoma forced 1,015 families to register for Red Cross aid, and Torrential rains in Houston, Texas on June 18th further strained the emergency disaster resources. (That was the day the famed Astrodome was closed for a scheduled baseball game, due to the weather.)

Twisters and violent winds in Lemont, Ill. (a suburb of Chicago), Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa have further marked the violent weather conditions, affecting so many homes and families.

Anyone wishing to make a contribution to the National Red Cross Disaster Relief Fund can do so by sending a check to the Princeton Red Cross Chapter, specified for Disaster Relief, 182 No. Harrison St., Princeton.

ART CLASSES OFFERED

For Young People. "What shall we do now?" comes up a little more frequently during the latter part of summer vacation, and classes at the Princeton Art Association's Studio-Barn on Rosedale Road may be the answer.

Three courses will be offered during August in the morning from 10-12. On Tuesdays, Printmaking for young people 11 years and older will include an introduction to the techniques of etching and collography. On Wednesday, ages 7-10 will work with clay, paper, wood, strings - you name it! - in mixed media and, on Thursday, students 10 years and older will learn to look, draw, and paint using a variety of materials and approaches in Drawing and Painting.

The program will be under the direction of Lynn Peterfreund, who received her BA from the University of Michigan where she majored in Fine Arts-Psychology. She then continued her studies in Fine Arts at Ontario College of Art and has worked with children of various ages in the Ann Arbor Recreation Department program, at the Kibbutz Gvar Am in Israel and at the University of Michigan. Ms. Peterfreund's own work has been exhibited widely, both in Ann Arbor and Toronto.

Call the Princeton Art Association, 921-9173, for further information on available classes. Registration by phone is possible.

SPORTS FANS! I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

Here's an interesting football fact... Although George Blanda has played more seasons of pro football than anyone else in history (26), he does NOT hold the record for most consecutive seasons of playing pro football... Blanda played every year from 1949 through 1958, but then sat out 1959, and then played every year from 1960 through 1975, so the most consecutive years he's played are 16 ... Meanwhile Earl Morrall has played pro football every year from 1956 through 1975, so it is Morrall who holds the record for playing pro football the most consecutive years, 20.

One little-mentioned effect of baseball expansion is that now that the American League will have a team in Toronto starting next season, and since the National League already has a team in Montreal, it will be possible some year for the World Series to take place entirely outside the United States for the first time in history.

What's the fastest anyone ever played 18 holes of golf?... The world record is held by Len Richardson who once played a 6,248-yard, 18-hole course, holing out on each hole, in 31 minutes!... Richardson was an Olympic runner and ran at top speed between each shot.

All You Ever Wanted To Know About Baseball and More Contained in New Book, "The Glory and The Game"

America has been engaged in a century-old love affair with baseball, an ardor which seems to be heating up more than ever this season.

The drama and appeal of our national pastime--the game, the players, the unforgettable moments--have been captured in a beautiful book, "The Glory and the Game" published this spring by Prentice-Hall.

"THE GAME AND THE GLORY" is a beautifully-done book on baseball that any fan will treasure. Credited with a big assist in its publication are two associate editors, John Monteleone (above) and Alfred Glossbrenner, both Princeton writers. Monteleone's firm was responsible for the "packaging" of the book.

A collection of articles by sports writers and fans of the game, the book is edited by Joseph Reichler, who covered baseball for nearly 25 years for the Associated Press and is now Special Assistant to the Commissioner of Baseball, Bowie Kuhn.

Two associate editors responsible for the nuts and bolts assemblage of the book, however, all the detail work and "packaging" are Princeton-based John Monteleone and Alfred K. Glossbrenner. A former professional ballplayer, Monteleone is head of John Monteleone Associates, a public relations - advertising - publishing firm at 145 Witherspoon Street. Glossbrenner, a graduate of Princeton University, is a free lance writer with an office at 206 Nassau Street.

More than half – 150 – of its pages are in full color: portraits of Jackie Robinson, Casey Stengel, Roger Maris hitting No. 61, Aaron No. 715, Lou Brock stealing second. The collection of photographs -- old and new – is one of the best ever assembled, said Glossbrenner.

Much of the writing is by Reichler, whose mind is a computer, brimming with baseball lore and statistics. "He's phenomenal," said Monteleone. "He could proof read an article without going to an encyclopedia. He's forgotten more than most fans will ever know."

The book leads off with an original article by James A. Michener on "The Game." Reichler then outlines each of the 24 major league members in discussing "Today's Teams."

In a section entitled "The Diamond" Sparky Anderson describes how he manages The Big Red Machine; managers discuss strategy. Joe Garagiola tells why a man shipwrecked on a desert island for 50 years would have no trouble in remembering and understanding the game were he to return in "It's the Same Game" and George Plimpton takes on the bullpen.

Dynasties Described. Articles on the most famous baseball dynasties follow, including the Chicago Cubs, Philadelphia Athletics, Yankees, Cardinals and Dodgers and that greatest team of all, the 1927 Yankees.

Next, Monteleone and Glossbrenner have chosen 21 of the game's quintessential highlights in a section of "Unforgettable Moments" for those who never tire of re-reading how Fred Merkles' failure to touch second base cost the Giants the National League pennant in 1908 or how Carl Hubbell fanned five immortal hitters in succession in the 1934 All-Star game.

Well-known sports writers such as Shirley Povich, who has been covering sports for more than 50 years for the Washington Post, Robert Creamer and Reichler portray "The Giants of the Game." In an introduction, Reichler selects his all-time, all-star American and National League teams. In fact he picked four, dividing each league into periods between 1900 and 1940 and 1941 through 1975.

There are articles by James T. Farrell, Edwin Newman, and Harry Reasoner in extolling the glory of the game to give, what Monteleone calls, "a new perspective."

First Game 1846. New York Times' sports writer Joseph Durso describes the first "baseball" match on June 19, 1846 between in Knickerbocker Club and the New York Nine at the Elysian Fields in Hoboken. The New York Nines won, 23-1. His article, "Baseball as Part of Americana" is a pure delight. Monteleone estimates that between 15 and 17 thousand of the original press run of 25,000 have been sold. Prentice-Hall predicts, he added, that the book will have a "shelf life" of three years.

SPORTS In Princeton

Monteleone feels that the book (it is priced at $19.95) is a bargain. "I tell you one thing: you'll never get another book with so many pictures in it for so little," he said.

What was the impetus for the book? "Prentice-Hall came to me," recalled Monteleone, who had had dealings with the book firm previously. After it explained what it had in mind, P-H asked Monteleone to write an outline. He agreed and submitted one to the Baseball Commissioner's office. The book's introduction, by the way, is by Mr. Kuhn. Reichler agreed to serve as editor.

Monteleone, who had earlier experiences "packaging" books -- he brought out "We Can Teach You to Play Soccer" by Bill Muse, Princeton University soccer coach, with Dan White – then got to work.

With Glossbrenner on board, the two suggested articles and writers, drew up assignments, researched photographs. During the two years from inception to publication, interspersed with several delays, including one when it appeared that Mr. Kuhn might be voted out of office by the team owners and the whole project scrapped, Monteleone and Glossbrenner worked hand in glove with contributors, rewriting and editing. Plimpton, for example, submitted more than twice the asked for 2500 words.

"I don't claim to be the only driving force in the book – there said Monteleone, can't possibly be one -- but we gave suggestions and we took suggestions."

For the 33-year old Monteleone, it was an assignment he could enjoy. "I've been involved," he said, "with baseball all my life. I played it at high school (Pennington) college (Seton Hall) and as a professional."

After graduating from Seton Hall in 1964, Monteleone signed a three-year contract with the New York Yankees. A third baseman, he played for several Yankee farm teams. His contract was sold to Washington, and he was assigned to Savannah in the Southern League. Monteleone quit when the owners refused to pay his air fare to attend National Guard meetings in New Jersey.

it. He worked for a year for the Princeton Packet, attended Columbia Journalism School and then worked for Dick Schaap, doing interviews and biographies. In addition to editing 'Sport' magazine, Schaap is a sports commentator for NBC television and is the author of several "as told to" books by such sports personalities as Jerry Kramer and Joe Namath. Schaap's industry and organization not only impressed Monteleone but the experience was invaluable in starting his own career.

Meanwhile, Monteleone's interest had widened to embrace publishing. He reports that he likes to act like an agent for a publisher wherein he gets an idea for a book and tries to "sell" it to different publishers for backing, leaving all the detail work which publishers try to avoid to himself. Right now, he said, he is trying to interest publishers on a book on football that will list all the terms of the game heard on television.

In other projects, Monteleone has transformed a manuscript on salt from Dow, which he said the company didn't know what to do with, into a finished book. He has done the same for food with Van Nostrand and Reinhold.

Five years ago, after working for a Princeton publishing firm and after "bouncing between Philadelphia and New York," Monteleone opened his own business. He lives in Pennington.

And the interest in baseball remains strong. For the past four years he has been manager of the Hopewell Post 339 American Legion team. Pictures of past Post teams adorn his office walls.

As for a tip on the present major league season, Montelone admits that the Phillies have a tough team, "but I hate to bet against those Reds."

NASSAU UNSINKABLE

Adds Two More Wins. The Nassau Swim Club won two more meets last week, defeating Valley, 185 to 123, and Ben Franklin, 207 to 101, to increase its perfect record to 7-0.

Peter Smith and Paul Sally were the big winners against Valley -- Smith in the 8-u breaststroke and butterfly and assisting the 8-u medley relay in their win, Sally in the 12-u butterfly and individual medley and the 12-u medley relay. Abby Harris in the 12-u backstroke and individual medley and Steve Sally in the 14-u backstroke and freestyle won two events each.

Several swimmers assisted in winning a relay as well as winning an individual event: Sandy Danielson in 10-u butterfly, John Healy in 12-u breaststroke, Val Van Horn in 14-u butterfly, Sue Danielson in 17-u backstroke, Ann Wawczak in 10-u breaststroke, Li Van Horn in 12-u freestyle, and Mary Bolster in 17-u individual medley.

Other individual winners were Nina Jahn in 17-u diving, Marc Goutin in 17-u breaststroke, Ann Healy in 14-u breaststroke and Ellen Wawczak in 17-u freestyle. Nassau won five of eight medley relays.

In its rout of Ben Franklin, Nassau won 20 of 28 individual events, each one by a different swimmer, and half of the eight relays. Only two were also members of a winning relay team: John Healy and Yuka Manabe.

PLAYERS FARE WELL

In Lehigh Tennis Tournament. Princeton's junior tennis players fared well in the Lehigh Valley Tenis Tournament held last week at Bethlehem, Pa.

Dan Aronovic, seeded sixth, defeated the No. 2 seed, Jim Stairaker, 4-6, 7-6, 6-2 in the semi-finals to meet Keith Usiskin, who was seeded fifth. In a three set final, Dan defeated Keith, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, to take the title in the 18 and under division. Keith opposed Steve Ebersole in the semi-finals, winning 6-3, 6-3, while Steve upset the top-seeded Phil Diaz in the quarter finals, 6-2, 6-2.

Vera Jesser defeated Diana Dunn, 6-2, 6-0, to win the girls 16 and under title. Seeded second, Vera topped Beth Oglesby in the semi-finals, 7-5, 6-4.

In the doubles competition, Ebersole and Aronovic defeated John Spear and Tom Winchester in the finals of the 18 and under division, 6-0, 6-2. Oglesby and Laurie McAvoy stopped Hatti Hosch and Lisa Muench, 6-2, 6-4, to win the girls 16 and under doubles title.

Other Princeton-area players competing in the tournament were: Allen Aronovic, Muffy Ellis, Lisa Carpi, Steve Ellis, Kelly Zinkowski, Jean Cullingham, Jan Denise, David Sally, Chris King, David Ellis, Peter Ellis, Diane Aronovic, Suzanne Usiskin, Irene Usiskin, Kinsy Dyckman, Melanie Thompson, Nancy Evans, Diane Needham and Dan Amarel.

POST 76 CHASE OVER

Ewing Wins Division

Despite its almost-but-not-quite disappointment of coming close to winning the Northern Division title and falling short, Princeton Post 76 has a great deal to be pleased with.

Its second place finish, just one point behind Ewing Post 314, and 14-11-1 record in the Mercer County Legion League are substantial improvements over last year's six wins and fourth place, 28 points out of first. In addition, rookie manager Bob Bruschi can look forward to the return of seven starters, including powerful Bill Schroeder, who finished second in the league in batting with a .442 average. He also had three home runs and twenty-one RBIs.

Princeton kept its hopes alive with its second consecutive defeat of Bill Klank and Ewing Post 314 for a 4-1 decision. Post 76 routed Klank with six hits and four runs in the first two innings before being checked by reliever Mark Forst. In the first, singles by Steve Hurlburt, Schroeder and Dave Seagers produced one run.

The Princeton lead continued to expand as two walks, a single by Dave Duncan, and more hits by Schroeder and Hurlburt sent three runs across and chased Klank.

Under-rated Rick Malacrea gained his fifth victory on a three-hit effort. With the exception of the third inning, when Ewing combined two walks and a single to score itsonly run, Malacrea was in complete control.

Princeton saw its title hopes end, however, when Broad Street Park Post 313 peppered Princeton pitching for 13 hits and an 8-2 victory. Starter Darryl MacPherson took the loss when Post 313 erupted for 11 hits and all eight runs over a three-inning span. MacPherson and his relief, Steve Hurlburt, received little help from the offense which managed four hits.

Another Malacrea gem enabled Post 76 to finish on a winning note and put the finishing touches on his Legion career with his second three-hit victory of the week. Malacrea struck out seven and allowed only two men to reach third for a 6-0 shutout over Hopewell Post 339. His record is 6-2.

The Princeton attack was spearheaded by Scott Thompson, who connected for three hits including a triple and Schroeder, who had two hits. Mike Boonin and Malacrea also had two hits in the romp.

PLAYOFF NEEDED

To End Little League Tie

The Princeton Youth Baseball Association Little League ended its regular season last week in a dead heat as both Post 76 and U.A. Local 380 finished with 11-3 records. A playoff game will be held to determine which will succeed Engine No. 1 as league champions.

Post 76 knocked the Elks out of a three-way tie for first with a 1-0 win. Clark Lippincott got the win, striking out 13 and allowing just four hits. He received support from Peter Nelson, who had two hits, and Terry Phox. Reed Horovitz had two hits for the losers.

Although it managed to stay in first, Post 76 then suffered its third defeat of the season to Engine Co. 1. P.J. Young picked up the 10-9 win in relief. The hitting came from Peter Versfeld, who had two hits, Larry McKellar, who homered, and Judd Petrone, who tripled and scored the winning run. For the losers Terry Phox had three hits, Peter Nelson had two hits, Clark Lippincott doubled and homered, and Lewis Levine tripled.

U.A. Local 380 gained a tie for first by splitting its last two games. Greg Lierberman pitched a 10-5 win over Engine Co. 1 as Josh Miller had two hits and Todd Geherty tripled. Engine Co. 1 was led by Petrone, who doubled and tripled; Versfeld, who homered and Young who doubled.

However, Local 380 squandered its chance to take sole control of first, losing a slugfest to the Eagles, 15-14. Paul Keaney fanned seven en route to the win and had two hits, one a triple. Joining him were Muffin Walker, who homered and doubled home the winning run; Muskie Teresky, who had three hits, and Chris Hunninghake, who had two hits, one a homer. For Local 380 Scott Roney had three hits, including a home run; Lierberman doubled, and Carl Rice and Geherty each had two hits.

PIASC rebounded from a last place finish last year, winning its last two games to finish even at 7-7. Watt Tamasi got credit for a 23-6 win over Engine Co. 3, getting the necessary hitting from Kevin Phox, Don Casciola, and Ken Varvel, each rapping three hits. No. 3 was led by Lamont Fletcher and Tad Geherty, who combined for six hits. Phox then gave PIASC its second win as he took advantage of two Casciola homers to defeat the Elks.

Engine Co. 3 escaped the cellar with a 23-1 win over Roma Eterna. Scott Waterman struck out 15 and collected five hits including a homer to pace the victors. He received additional help from Lamont Fletcher's four hits (one a homer), three hits each from Jim Pittman, Tad Geherty, and John Schnatterly, and David Steifel's homer. Tom Murray homered for Roma Eterna's only run.

Roma Eterna engineered a major upset in its final game, defeating the Eagles, 15-9. Jeff Briggs got the win on the strength of Patty Murphy's four bagger and three home run blasts by Murray. Keaney homered and Teresky had two hits for the Eagles.

WINNERS CROWNED

In Junior Tennis Matches. Bob Flippen won the 16 and under championship in last week's Junior Tennis Tournament sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Department and the Princeton Community Tennis Program.

He defeated Marc Ericksen, 6-1, 7-6, in the finals after stopping Rick Tetzeli in the semi-finals, 6-4, 6-4. Marc reached the finals with a hard-fought 6-1, 3-6, 6-3 victory over Michael D'Annucci.

Vera Jesser defeated Melanie Thompson, 6-0, 6-2, to capture the girls 16 and under division title. Tricia Keeler and Nancy Evans were the other semi-finalists.

Bryce Thompson and Lisa Carpi were the 12 and under champions, Bruce defeating Charles Han, 6-0, 6-1, and Lisa winning over Kitty Ager, 6-3, 6-4. Semi-finalists were Robby Bowen and Marc Knowlton and Anne Bakoulis and Karen Lytle.

Nick Farinella and Kelly Zinkowski were the boys 14 and under finalists. Nick won the title in straight sets. Kelly defeated Bill Jennings to reach the finals while Nick defeated Kinsy Dyckman. Kinsy had to win a hard-fought 7-5, 5-7, 7-5 decision over Bill Haynes to reach the semi's.

In tightly-contested consolation matches, Marc Plante and Kirsten Beske defeated Gregg Van Horn and Lisa Litt to win the 12 and under titles.. Marc defeated Johnny Zorzi 8-5, and Gregg topped Clay Smith 8-6. Patty Murphy and Jackie Lapsley were the girls semi-finalists.

GREEN IS CHAMPION

Of Summer Lacrosse. Green defeated Orange, 10-9, last week in the championship game of the Princeton Summer Lacrosse League when Jay Budd scored the winning goal in the third minute of sudden death play.

Budd with five goals and an assist and Greg Matthews, five goals, accounted for all Green scoring. As recently as July 13, Green had been in fifth place in the seven-team league with a 1-3 record. Then it defeated White the next day, added Black to its list of victims and edged Navy 10-9 to qualify for the playoffs. Steve Allison had five goals in the latter contest.

In its playoff game, Green won another exciting match, outlasting Blue, 13-12. Allison, Budd and Mathews combined for 12 of the 13 Green tallies. For Blue, Ed Baruch was high man with six goals, while teammates Dave Baxter, Pete Lehle and Pete Hixson each scored a pair.

In the other playoff game, Orange defeated Red, 13 to 12. The victors received balanced scoring from Morgan Mohrman, four goals, and Fred Bull, Don Squires, Dave Barnes and Mace Mohrman, all two each. Bob Olsson of Red was the week's top scorer with seven goals. Kevin Syberg added three and Bob Campbell, two.

In its title game with Green, Morgan Mohrman led Orange with four goals. Barnes and Mace Mohrman each had two.

Saturday morning at 10, the Princeton Lacrosse All-Stars will meet the Woodbury All-Stars at the Valley Road School field.

16 AND UNDER TENNIS CHAMPION: Bob Flippen won the Junior Tennis Tournament for boys 16 and under last week. The tournament was sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Department and the Princeton Community Tennis Program.

ANYONE FOR TENNIS---AND

lovely woods, gorgeous flowering trees and shrubs, a high view over a rushing stream, winding terraced paths, rock-walled garden, and even a dog run? Not to mention a spacious big family house where toplight design and a contemporary feel (particularly in the use of glass) are combined for flexible living, gracious entertaining, and aesthetic appeal
Entrance hall, stunning high-ceilinged living room, dining room, panelled library, guest room and bath, master suite, and powder room are at one end of the first floor, while adjoining the fine kitchen are the family room, maid's quarters and mud-room. Downstairs (but above grade) is "kid heaven." Five bedrooms, two baths, and a play area can contain and amuse innumerable offspring of any age, live-in or visiting (since the floor can be closed off when the "empty nesters" -- what a phrase! -- are home alone.) The location is just right too: a quiet western Princeton area with neighbors close enough for sociability but far enough away for privacy
Exciting reduction to $215,000

HOT AIR IN THE ATTIC WASTES AMERICA'S ENERGY AND COSTS YOU MONEY

During the summer months temperatures in the attic can reach as high as 150 degrees. This blanket of heat can penetrate through the best ceiling insulation into the living area below and burden the air conditioning or make a building that is not air conditioned hot and uncomfortable. Ceiling insulation at best is a deterrent to heat, not a barrier.

Extraordinary Rancher in West Windsor

Nestled in the trees, but close to everything, this neat ranch boasts a cozy living room, dining room, carpeted family room with fireplace, and a large, newly-remodeled kitchen. On the main floor, too, there are three comfortable bedrooms and a bath. Below you'll find a dry basement for work or playroom - and a laundry. The two-car garage is extra-large, the landscaping professional.

These owners were really thinking. And that is also evident within the 5 BEDROOM interior, zoned for family living with PRIVACY. $225,000 for this one, and you'll be pleased with what you see. Next, on a private road (bet you haven't seen it) is a PERFECT house for a couple with grown up children, at home or away, visiting parents, etc. The master bedroom and study are on the first floor; the other bedrooms upstairs. The FAMILY ROOM is part of the kitchen - no lonesome cook. Too, the house is splendidly set up for ENTERTAINING. Close to town. $125,000 on this - If you are looking for ADVENTURE in a home, take a look at this FIVE ACRE lot about 1 mile from Palmer build in the trees overlooking Stony Brook with a view of some of the prettiest grounds in the area, belonging to various neighbors. $55,000, and not bad when you consider WHERE and WHAT. We planned to tell you, too, about a sparkling 3 bedroom RANCH, our newest listing; but it was SOLD before we could get to you. NOW, we waited until the end to describe this one. It's just under $175,000; and if that is your price range, SEE IT. See it for a dozen reasons: location, thoughtful floor plan, COOK'S KITCHEN with "the works" and handsome, too; beautiful grounds mostly wooded, but for the POOL and play area. Look at this one with us; we'll open your eyes!

More goodies next week.

Pharmacy Footnotes

by Mel Atlas, Reg. Pharm

Is rheumatism? According to the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation: "more than ten million men, women and children in the United States suffer from some form of arthritis or rheumatic disease. Of the ten million victims, more than five million are partially or totally disabled. Arthritis causes an annual loss of well over a billion dollars. Approximately $968,000,000 of this amount is losing wages, another $100,000,000 is spent for medical care, much of which, is ineffective. The annual cost of public relief to arthritis victims is at least $128,000,000.

EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY FOR THE RIGHT PERSON

I am looking for a person of executive character who is capable of directing his own activities in the greater Trenton area. You must be effective in dealing with important clients and have good people skills.

Our reputation among business leaders is excellent. We perform a professional service of a confidential nature to a limited clientele. The average income of our organization is in excess of $34,000 a year. You should have a record of success, but for reasons beyond your control have limited advancement possibilities in your present situation.

If you feel you fit this brief outline and want more information, write me a short note. I would prefer that you write immediately rather than take the time to prepare an elaborate resume. Your communication will be kept in the strictest confidence.

BUTCHER BLOCK, 24" sq. professional floor model, for any kitchen. All maple hardwood. New. Regular $258. Now $150. 924-4427. 7-15-3t

BUILT IN 1750

A handsome antique colonial that has been lovingly maintained, but updated for convenient, modern living. The house was built on the Georgian plan—four rooms to a floor, symetrically arranged around a large, welcoming center hall. The living room is beautifully proportioned with an open-beamed ceiling and a handsome fireplace, the study boasts a Franklin stove and has the convenience of a full bath. The dining room is proportioned to match the living room and has a fireplace with a splendid Federal mantle. There is also a library, thus giving the house the basic Georgian floor plan. The kitchen is a step down from the dining room and has recently been completely redone. It is as modern as tomorrow, but so well thought out, it seems to have been there since the 1700's. A lovely open staircase leads to the large upstairs hallway and four corner bedrooms and a spacious centrally located bathroom. Ten rolling acres (some of which are fenced) a horse barn, three-car barn and a swimming pool complete the picture. A very pretty picture too! JUST REDUCED TO $138,000
